FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY. A Little Girl Shot During a Quarrel Be-tween Two Men.

Last night, between nine and ten o'clock, the neighborhood of Indiana avenue, between Pirst and Second streets, was aroused by the report facts: For some months past a fend has existed between David Poindexter and John Beckett on account of Poindexter, who keeps a little store on Indiana avenue, between First and Second streets, having spected Beckett from his house. Both parties attended a pionic at Annapolis yesterday and renewed the quarrel.
After arriving home Poindexter was sitting in Amapolis yesterday and renewed the quarrel. After arriving home Poindexter was sitting in front of his house, when Beckett approached him and said: "There is the black s—of a b—that I want," and, raising a pistol, fired, the bell missed Poindexter, but struck a little girl about ten years old, cancel Rose Lee Harris, Poindexter's neite, who was standing near, taking riflect in the forehead. Beckett ran down Second street and was chead by Second street and was chead by Second down Second street and was chased by Sergeant Hollinberger and Officer Boyle. Between Maryland avenue and B street south Perry Carson, one of the bailiffs of the Criminal Court, stopped Beckett and then let him go. The officers came up, but Beckett escaped in the crowd. Dr. A. A. Marsteller was called o'clock yesterday morning, he was surprised to find the back doors open and every indication of the presence of some one in the house. The house had been left vacant and locked up, as Mr. Reeside's family is out of town. Upon investigating be found a colored man in one investigating he found a colored man in one of the rooms up stairs, and as the intruder showed fight a desperate struggle ensued between the two men. Mr. Recside succeeded in throwing the thief down stairs, and by quickly following up the advantage, soon secured him. As there was no police officer in the neighborhood, Mr. Recside took his captive to the Sixth Precinct Station where he may his name as Edward Wilson, alias Charlie Eck-man, and was locked up. Upon returning to the house it was found that the thief had ransacked everal rooms and collected a large quantity of goods, which he had piled up ready for removal. It appears that Wilson has called at Mr. Recside's house as a buckster, and in that way learned that the family was BWAY.

A Strange Shooting Affair. About noon yesterday, as one of McFarland & Stephenson's express wagons was passing the corner of Third and F streets northwest, a colored man sitting in the wagon fired a shot from a pistol at a little white boy named John Barrett, the ball striking him in the right thigh. He was carried to his residence, No. 208 G street northwest, and attended by Dr. Alexandria de de la Rall. It was assertant de Ball. It was ascertained that the wound was hone. Officer J. J. Smith arrested the driver of the wagon, Thornton Lee, on suspiciou of being the one who fired the pistol, but witnoses say that another colored man, who rides around with Lee, was the perpetrator. The latter positively refused to divulge the name of the other man, and was consequently locked up at the Seventh Precinct Station for a hear-ing. No cause has been assigned for the act. ing. No cauce has been assigned for the act, and it is supposed to have been the work of "pure cussedness."

This week they have games with the Boston, and Syracuse clubs, all league nines, which they could not play and remain in the National Association. At first it was stated that Mr. Soule intended to organize a second team, to be known as the "New Hop Bitters." to play exhibition games, and leave at he old to play exhibition games, and leave the old club to play out the schedule engagements. but it seems that the proprietor of the club has abandoned that project and will now run the advertising nine. If this be a fact, then there will be a third alteration of the record, and at present it cannot be told what the status of each club in the championship arena is, but doubtless it will be officially promulgated by the secretary of the association at an early day.

No sooner had the Uticas disbauded than the Springfields jumped in and helped them-selves to as many players as they thought requisite to strengthen their nine. They took Batten, Dolan, and Mack, to play second base,

When the Manchesters broke up, the "Hop Bitters" obtained three of that nine and the Worcesters one, while Sweezy and Stoughton went to another club, the "General Worth, near Boston, Mass. The action of the Eastern clubs that are in the championship fight in strengthing their nines whenever opportunity offers should serve as a hint, if nothing more, to the club in this city to look to their playing strength. It is perfectly obvious to their playing strength. It is perfectly obvious to most any person possessing any knowledge of the game that there are weak spots in the team that could be made stronger, and it is to the interest of the club to see that it is done. Unlike a Sunday contemporary, the REPUB-LICAN has no pets, to foster that they may hold their place in the nine, while other players are held to a strict accountability for the work performed, and not admitted to the enjoyment of that liberal allowance of con-sideration deserved for a favored few.
